Frequently Asked Questions on Voting Your Qualcomm Shares

Question: Why did I receive a mailing regarding the upcoming annual meeting?

- All Qualcomm stockholders receive proxy materials in advance of each of our annual meetings with instructions on how to vote your shares and information with which to make your voting decision.
- All Qualcomm stockholders are receiving proxy materials with a WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form to vote for Qualcomm's Board of Directors and on other important matters.
- You may also receive voting packages from Broadcom, which have a Blue proxy card. Simply DISCARD any voting package that contains a Blue proxy card. You do not need to return any Blue proxy cards.

Question: I thought the annual meeting already occurred on March 6—why am I still getting mailings?

- Qualcomm delayed the business of its 2018 Annual Meeting pursuant to an Interim Order it received from the Committee on Foreign Investment in the United States (CFIUS) on March 4, 2018, as modified on March 5, 2018. The Annual Meeting was opened on March 6, 2018 and immediately adjourned to be reconvened on April 5, 2018.

Question: Do the votes I previously cast still count or do I need to vote again?

- If you previously submitted a valid proxy, your vote will still count. You do not need to vote again unless you want to change your vote.

Question: How do I vote if I want to support Qualcomm?

- Qualcomm's Board of Directors recommends that all Qualcomm stockholders vote the WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form:
 1. FOR all of Qualcomm's Directors (Proposal 1)
 2. FOR Proposals 2-7
 3. AGAINST Proposal 8
- You can vote one of three ways:
 1. Online
 2. Phone
 3. Mail
- Follow the instructions on your WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form to vote in one of the above three ways.

Question: Why is this year different from prior years?

- Broadcom has made an unsolicited proposal to acquire Qualcomm and is now seeking to replace a majority of Qualcomm's Board. Our Board believes that Broadcom's current offer of $79.00 per share, as well as the previous offer of $82.00 per share, materially undervalues the Company and comes with a high degree of regulatory risk. The Board also believes the Broadcom nominees are inherently conflicted and are not the right people to negotiate a good deal on Qualcomm stockholders' behalf. The Qualcomm Board recommends that Qualcomm stockholders vote FOR the re-election of Qualcomm's entire slate of 11 highly qualified and experienced nominees. To do so, simply vote FOR ALL nominees listed in Proposal 1 on the WHITE proxy card.

Question: When should I vote?

- We suggest you vote as soon as possible. No matter how many or how few shares you own, your vote is important.
 - The deadline for voting by phone or online if shares are held in a bank or brokerage account is 11:59 pm ET on April 4. If you hold registered shares, we urge you to vote online or by phone by 9:00 am ET on April 5, 2018.

- Importantly, if you inadvertently return a Blue proxy card or Blue voting instruction form, you can always cancel that vote by submitting a later-dated vote using a WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form online, by phone, or by mail. Only your latest-dated vote counts.

Question: If I want to support Qualcomm, should I vote against Broadcom's nominees on the Blue card?

- No. You should discard any Blue proxy card.
- If you vote using the Blue proxy card or Blue voting instruction form (even if you mark "withhold" on Broadcom's nominees), it will not support the election of Qualcomm's Directors and will cancel any vote you previously cast using the WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form.
- Vote FOR Qualcomm's entire slate of 11 highly qualified and experienced nominees on the WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form.
- If you inadvertently return a Blue proxy card or Blue voting instruction form, you can always cancel that vote by submitting a later-dated vote using a WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form online, by phone, or by mail. Only your latest-dated vote counts.

Question: I usually get materials delivered electronically. Why am I receiving hard copies this year?

- Because there is a proxy contest this year, stockholders are receiving hard copy mailings instead of e-mails. No matter how many or how few shares you own, your vote is important and you will receive mailings with a WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form.
- Your preferences will remain unchanged for future stockholder meetings. If you have opted for electronic delivery of your annual proxy materials, you will continue to receive materials electronically for next year's Annual Meeting.

Question: I received multiple proxy packages. Why?

- You will receive a voting package for each account in which you hold Qualcomm shares.
- Each package may have different voting instructions for the shares in that particular account. It's important that you vote every WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form from each package you receive.
- You may also receive voting packages from Broadcom, which have a Blue proxy card. DISCARD any voting package that contains a Blue proxy card.

Question: My proxy package went to the wrong address. Can my address be corrected for future mailings?

- Qualcomm cannot change the address that appeared on your accounts for the shares you owned as of the Record Date, January 8, 2018, so you will continue to receive mailings at that address until the Annual Meeting.
- If you need help receiving proxy packages at another address, please call the firm assisting us in the solicitation of proxies, Innisfree M&A Incorporated ("Innisfree") at the toll-free number shown below.

Question: Why would I hold Qualcomm shares in different accounts?

- You may have multiple accounts holding Qualcomm shares, such as personal brokerage accounts or retirement accounts.
- Each account that holds Qualcomm shares is required to send you a voting package.

Question: If I received multiple proxy packages, can I vote all my shares on one card?

- No. You must vote the WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form you receive with respect to EACH ACCOUNT in which you hold Qualcomm shares.
 - If you own Qualcomm shares in multiple accounts, you will receive a voting package for each account.
 - Each account may have different voting instructions. It's important to follow the voting instructions on the WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form for each package you receive.

- Even if you end up voting the same accounts again, that's okay — your shares will only be counted once, and only your latest vote counts.
- Discard any package with a Blue proxy card or Blue voting instruction form.

Question: Why are the voting instructions in each proxy package different?

- If you hold Qualcomm shares in multiple accounts, each account may have different voting instructions.
- You must follow the voting instructions on the WHITE proxy card or WHITE voting instruction form for each account that holds Qualcomm shares in order to support Qualcomm.

Question: I have already voted. Why am I getting additional letters and the same White proxy cards again? Do I need to vote again?

- Yes. We recommend that you vote all of the WHITE proxy cards or WHITE voting instruction forms you receive. Because of the importance of this year's vote, you will receive multiple letters from Qualcomm with additional WHITE proxy cards or WHITE voting instruction forms. Each mailing contains information about the issues involved in the proxy contest that we believe stockholders should know about.
- ONLY YOUR LATEST-DATED VOTE COUNTS. If you already voted a Blue proxy card, submit a new later-dated WHITE proxy card to cancel the Blue vote.

Question: I received a phone call asking if I had received my voting materials and if I had any questions. Why am I receiving this call?

- Qualcomm has asked a company called Innisfree M&A Incorporated ("Innisfree") to contact our stockholders and encourage them to vote their WHITE proxy cards or WHITE voting instruction forms.
- Innisfree will also help you with any questions you have about the voting process or the annual meeting.
- You may continue to receive calls like this in advance of the Annual Meeting on April 5, 2018.
- You also may receive calls on behalf of Broadcom. You have no obligation to take those calls.

Question: I have already received multiple calls — can I be taken off the call list now?

- Yes, Innisfree can remove your name from Qualcomm's call list—please let Innisfree know.
- However, please note that neither Qualcomm nor Innisfree can control whether or not Broadcom removes your name from its call list.
