CALCULATION OF FILING FEE

Transaction Valuation*	Amount of Filing Fee
$38,449,657,591.00	$4,456,315.31

* Calculated solely for purposes of determining the filing fee. The calculation of the transaction value is determined by adding the sum of (i) 335,177,459 common shares, par value €0.20 per share (not including treasury shares), of NXP Semiconductors N.V. multiplied by the offer consideration of $110.00 per share, (ii) the net offer consideration for 9,862,580 shares issuable pursuant to outstanding options with an exercise price less than $110.00 per share (which is calculated by multiplying the number of shares underlying such outstanding options by an amount equal to $110.00 minus the weighted average exercise price for such options of $37.05 per share), (iii) 7,090,302 shares subject to issuance pursuant to restricted stock units multiplied by the offer consideration of $110.00 per share and (iv) 733,897 shares subject to issuance pursuant to outstanding performance-based restricted stock units multiplied by the offer consideration of $110.00 per share. The foregoing share figures have been provided by the issuer to the offeror and are as of November 15, 2016, the most recent practicable date.

 The filing fee was calculated in accordance with Rule 0-11 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and Fee Rate Advisory #1 for Fiscal Year 2017, issued August 31, 2016, by multiplying the transaction value by 0.0001159.

The following are excerpts from the transcript of the earnings conference call held by QUALCOMM Incorporated on November 1, 2017, regarding the financial performance of QUALCOMM Incorporated for the quarter and fiscal year ended September 24, 2017, which excerpts relate to the pending acquisition of NXP Semiconductors N.V.:

PRESENTATION

Steve M. Mollenkopf - QUALCOMM Incorporated - CEO & Director

Turning to our pending acquisition of NXP. We remain focused on the last few regulatory approvals. We believe this acquisition will provide us with greater scale in automotive, IoT, security and networking with their highly complementary products and world-class sales channel, serving a long tail of customers that are driving growth.

Of the 9 jurisdictions reviewing, we have approvals from 5, including here in the U.S. and Taiwan with China and the EU the largest remaining. We are constructively working with each remaining regulator, and while the clock has stopped in Europe, there is nothing unexpected or surprising in that process for an acquisition of this size.

Significant effort was expended throughout the year on integration planning with NXP. Along with NXP, we continue to see this as an attractive deal for both our stockholders and NXP's stockholders at $110 per share as the combination brings together a comprehensive set of capabilities to address next-generation auto and IoT devices. We continue to focus on closing the acquisition by the end of calendar 2017 with a potential for the close to slip into 2018 based on the current status of approvals.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

James Eugene Faucette - Morgan Stanley, Research Division - Executive Director

Wanted to ask quickly on the NXPI process. You, I think, Steve, indicated that you're making good progress with the regulators, even though that deal may slip into next year. How are you feeling about your part of the process, et cetera, and whether — if there — if you feel like you're on the same page with regulators as to the things they may need to ask for?

Donald J. Rosenberg - QUALCOMM Incorporated - EVP, General Counsel and Corporate Secretary

James, this is Don Rosenberg. I'll take the first part of that. On the regulators, we are, as we've said before, working with the rest of the regulators that haven't yet cleared. As you recall, we have 5 regulators who have cleared already. We are deeply engaged with the others, and we are making progress. It's a little slower than we'd like to make, but that's more the process than anything else. And we are feeling good about our engagement and that we were going to get to the end as quickly as we can with them.

Vijay Raghavan Rakesh - Mizuho Securities USA LLC, Research Division - MD of Americas Research & Senior Semiconductor Analyst

Just one thing on NXPI. Do you still expect it to close in the year, (inaudible) ['17]?

George S. Davis - QUALCOMM Incorporated - CFO, Principal Accounting Officer and EVP

Yes. We've said that we're still working towards closing in the year, but clearly, we have some activities going on at regulators that are taking a bit longer than we thought. So we could see it slip into early '18, but we're confident it's on track to close and are still working to close it in the year.

Christopher Brett Danely - Citigroup Inc, Research Division - MD

I guess, another question on NXP, why not? So if we get through all the approvals but the tender doesn't go through or as projected, can you talk about what would cause you to walk away versus just raise the price? What would be the circumstances there?

George S. Davis - QUALCOMM Incorporated - CFO, Principal Accounting Officer and EVP

Yes. We're — right now we're really just focused on the regulatory close. We think $110 is a very full price, and I think, as you saw on NXP's earnings release, the management team there is also reinforcing that $110 is an attractive price for their stockholders as well. So right now we're — we'll stay focused on just getting this thing to the finish line.
